If yes, give a brief descripton and a list of modules currently operational (maximum 500 words)	The college information system is created as the integrated system, aiming to computerize all college processes. Processes include general college registers, general classifications. It allows for individual users to avoid the different interpretation of the same data. All data are stored in a centralized database. Thus it helps the system avoid data duplication. Information is gathered, put to the database and managed. That's why the circulation time of documents decreases, less logical mistakes are made, and search and elimination of mistakes can be done effectively. The information system is based on college computer network. The local area network connects the most office computers of the college. It ensures quick and reliable transmission of information. Information system operates using updated database management system software. The clientserver architecture is used for information system it enhances data reliability and security in connection with technologies of Internet. The college information system contains all basic processes, such as:

Administration: College Office: ? RGC SMS Software, Software for Leave register, Stock Register, File maintenance ? All the University Related works like Registration Process, Examination Form Fill up, Marks Capturing, Downloading Mark sheets and Marks Tabulation Reports perform through TCS iON Admin Portal and TCS Self service portal. ? College uses RGC Marksheet Software for storing all the marks related data of UG and PG Courses for Future Online One window access process. ? Preparation of e-service books and e-pension papers for all employees will be carrying out through WBHED E-pension Module, which is on process. ? All the information required by the West Bengal Government are uploaded and updated from time to time in the Banglarucchasikkha Portal Module. Library: SOUL 2.0, INFLIBNET NLIST, WEBOPAC Finance and Accounts: ? IFMS portal for PF and Salary ? PFMS portal dealing with government funds ? CRITERION I – CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 – Curriculum Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 – Institution has the mechanism for well planned curriculum delivery and documentation. Explain in 500 words

University has the authority to revise or upgrade the curriculum after consulting with the college teachers. Many of our teachers contribute in syllabi formulation as member of the board of studies in different subjects. Academic calendar is prepared for every semester to deliver the curriculum effectively. Our college provides Honours & Program courses in 27 subjects at Under Graduate level and 1 subject at Post Graduate level. College prepares academic calendar considering the University calendar. All the classes, home assignments and presentations follow the curriculum plan. Master routine is prepared for all subjects at the beginning of semester. College provides projectors, laptops; smart board and virtual class room to carry out ICT based teaching. The partially digitized college central library stocks a large number of updated books, journals, newspapers, e-resources and references according to curriculum for the students and teachers. These assets are updated on regular basis. Apart from central library, departmental library i.e. seminar library provides an array of curriculum based updated books that can be issued by students and teachers. Group discussion, case studies, MCQs, quiz and other class room activities are among the innovative teaching methods implemented by the teachers to enhance student understanding. Departments organize students' seminars beyond curriculum to enrich courses that aid in holistic development of students and better understanding of the subject. Moreover, departments organize seminars, special lectures and workshops to enable the students to interact with eminent personalities. Departments like Botany, Geography, Microbiology and Zoology organize educational field visits both within and outside curriculum programme to supplement the theory. Apart from this college centrally organizes an educational tour for all students of the institution. This year the institution visited Deul, having historical and environmental importance. Moreover, Department of Geography visited Simjhuri for Geological and soil survey and Department of Zoology visited Ramnabagan Wildlife Sanctuary to study biodiversity. Apart from educational tours departments also organized local field excursions on regular basis. On regular basis internal assessments were conducted for each semester and assessments were also made for practical based subjects. Online internal assessments were conducted for final year students of all streams. During this pandemic situation home-based assignments of internal and end-semester examinations of even semesters were conducted through online platform. All the departments of the institution up-loaded their study-materials on the college web-site for the interest of the students. This initiative benefitted not only the students of institution, but also those from other institutions. Also the free-link for library access helped the students during pandemic situation as an alternative to college library. During this academic session the institution conducted several certificate courses like Beauty & Wellness, Nursing assistant and Banking. Moreover, Department of Geography trained their students to make Soft-toy and Face mask. It proved very helpful for them and their families during this pandemic period. Periodic monitoring of academic performances such as class-room discipline and timely course completion is done in the departmental meetings. Records of admission, student-teacher ratio, examinations etc. are maintained centrally by the institution.

1.4 – Feedback System

1.4.1 – Whether structured feedback received from all the stakeholders.

Students	Yes
Teachers	Yes
Employers	Yes
Alumni	Yes
Parents	Yes

1.4.2 – How the feedback obtained is being analyzed and utilized for overall development of the institution? (maximum 500 words)

Feedback Obtained
Feedback is an important integral component of modern teaching learning process. All the teachers are engaged in feedback system and it is maintained centrally by the institution. Questionnaire prepared for feedback reflects the opinion of not only the students but also all the stakeholders of this institution. The anonymity of the feedback is always maintained. Students are given those questionnaires and asked to give their feedbacks. It is ensured that the students are given enough time and confidence to give their feedback freely. Equal transparency is maintained while receiving feedback from the parents. Feedback received from teachers and non-teaching staff about various matters related to the institution also contributes to its overall development. The results of the feedbacks from students, teachers, employers, and parents are then analyzed by the institution. In case of recurrence of any negative feedback from majority of students, corrective measures are taken immediately. As far as the feedback from parents is concerned, it is taken with utmost seriousness and open-mindedness. With a view to making the feedback system instrumental in the betterment of the institution, the idea of alumni students' feedback has been proposed by the teacher, and the same is in process.

2.3.2 – Students mentoring system available in the institution? Give details. (maximum 500 words)

Students mentoring at regular intervals has been one of the strengths of this college. All the students (Honours and Programme in) are divided into several groups, each group comprising of 25-30 students. The teachers are then randomly selected as mentors of these groups. In a formal meeting of the college each group is introduced to its mentor. A Whatsapp group is created by each group including both the mentees and the mentor. This makes the communication between them easier. The mentor fixes meetings with his/her mentees and listens to whatever the mentees have to say, be it academic, familial or personal. The mentor tries his/her best to motivate them and sort out their problems. If things need to be reported to the Principal of the college, it is done without any hesitation or delay. Since the mentees are selected rather randomly, they are generally found to be from other departments than that of the mentor. This helps them speak their hearts out. They can easily share their experiences and feelings with the mentor. If the mentor finds some problem most unlikely to be solved by him/her, he/she has it brought to the notice of the proper authorities, of course with the intervention of the Principal, so that it can be redressed as soon as possible. Apart from these formal mentor-mentee meetings, students constantly keep in touch with the teachers of their own department in person or over telephone. The students calls and messages are gladly responded to by the teachers most of the time. The Principal of this college, too, takes special care of those students who are in need of help. She always tries to find some time out of her extremely busy schedule to talk to the students and know about their problems. There are numerous instances of the Principal meeting the guardians of the students and convincing them of the dangers of a hastily fixed marriage as well as the benefits of higher studies. No wonder, all these efforts for the overall development of the students pay off in the long run.

Number of students enrolled in the institution	Number of fulltime teachers	Mentor : Mentee Ratio

2.5.2 – Reforms initiated on Continuous Internal Evaluation(CIE) system at the institutional level (250 words)

In accordance with the university norms continuous internal evaluations (CIE) are held in the college to ensure academic excellence on the part of the students. These are held well in advance of the end-semester exams so as to give the students opportunities and time to identify their problems and find means to sort them out. What is noteworthy here about the internal assessment is that these are held centrally with an exam schedule and duty charts of invigilators prepared by examination committees of different semesters. This makes the entire process of continuous internal evaluations (CIE) fair and transparent. Moreover, different question patterns are used to engage the attention of the students in a better way, some of them being the MCQs, very short answer type, short answer type and sometimes descriptive type questions. In one semester the students have to take the internal evaluation in open book mode. One unique feature of the continuous internal evaluation of this college is that for particular semesters the students have to sit online for the said assessment. This not only introduces them to the digital world, but also prepares them for different online competitive exams. Again, for ENVIS projects students are encouraged to use materials that can be easily recycled. Once the tests are over, the teachers sit personally with the non-teaching staff of the college to upload the marks obtained by students on the marks capturing portal of the University to minimize the possibility of mistakes.

2.5.3 – Academic calendar prepared and adhered for conduct of Examination and other related matters (250 words)

In the very beginning of every academic year Kazi Nazrul University sends an academic calendar to its affiliated colleges. In strict adherence to that calendar this institution prepares an even more exhaustive academic calendar. The academic calendars in the form of booklets are distributed to each and every student. Thus, they come to know about different academic programmes well in advance. This helps them prepare for continuous internal evaluation (CIE) and the end-semester exams in a more systematic way. The teachers teaching a particular course can also plan their teaching more effectively with the help of this. The academic calendar also proves helpful to the families of the students so far as their planning and arrangement for any family celebration or treatment of patients is concerned. Thus, the academic calendar of the college is instrumental in ensuring completion of the course in time, mentally preparing the students for internal evaluation and end-semester exams much before these are finally scheduled, thereby making the entire academic process smooth and effective.

5.3.2 – Activity of Student Council & representation of students on academic & administrative bodies/committees of the institution (maximum 500 words)

As a statutory body, the Students Council, Raniganj Girls College is one of its integral parts. The Council comprising of students representatives from different semesters and the Principal of the college as its President is instrumental in the overall development of the college. The Council functions as a link between the students and the college authority. Students are always given enough confidence and liberty to meet the Principal of the college and interact with her. This, however, does in no way lessen the importance of the Council. Students often share their experiences and problems with the members of the Council who immediately bring these to the notice of the Principal. Every possible effort is then made to solve their problems. Similarly, in addition to the official notices served by the college about different academic activities or other events and programmes, the Council always tries to keep the students updated. The zealous participation of the members of the Council in the arrangement of annual college function and sports meet is extremely praiseworthy. They often take the trouble of going to eminent personalities of the area as the representatives of the college and request them to grace the occasions as distinguished guests. They are equally humane in their aid and assistance to their fellow college students who are determined to continue their education despite extremely straitened financial condition. Even in their limited capacity they provide monetary help every year to many students for paying examination fees as well as admission fees. They also provide moral support to the children of an orphanage with tokens of love and affection. Once they donated some amount to the college for purchasing books. They also donated a fan to the NCC department. Their charitable work has not come to a halt even in this unprecedented situation caused by Covid-19 Pandemic. They have donated two contactless sanitizing machines. Apart from all these, they regularly arrange programmes on Teachers Day and on the auspicious occasion of Raksha Bandhan. In the latter they tie rakhis round the wrists of the teachers and seek their blessings. The teachers, in return, treat them with sweets and confectionery. This mutual exchange of love and respect strengthens the bond between teachers and students, which eventually turns a boon in creating a healthy atmosphere in the college. Again, the Council sounds almost synonymous with the Saraswati Puja. The members, along with many other enthusiastic students, work tirelessly to beautify the college with alpana and colourful paper cuttings. Same energy and enthusiasm on their part is noticed on the occasion of Eid Milan when they help the teachers distribute sweetened lachcha to all the students present on that day. Thus, the Students Council, Raniganj Girls College with all its activities is a significant contributor to making the college what it is today.

7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

Academic Session 2019-20 Title of the Practice: Conduct of Internal Assessments in the online mode Objectives of the Practice: To acquaint the students with the digital world. To get the students a hands-on experience of online examinations To acquaint the students with the modalities of online examinations the prevalent mode of conducting various competitive examinations leading to entry in service. This will also pave the way for faster evaluation and systematic storage as well as retrieval of examination data. This is also in line with the policy of our affiliating university to switch on to a completely paperless system To make the students environment consciousness by not wasting paper made from pulp of woods. The Context:In the modern world many important recruitment examinations are conducted online. But it has been our general observation that the majority of our students are not acquainted with the process and modalities of online examinations. Hence some of them were found to be less confident and having reservations in appearing in competitive examinations that are conducted online. Therefore it was decided that the learners should be exposed to the online examination system so that they can have a first-hand experience of the process. ThePractice: The Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) comprising six semesters was initiated by Kazi Nazrul University in 2016-17. In this pattern of study, under each programme, the learners are assessed internally for 10 marks for each course in each semester. In the academic session 2018-19, the institution for the first time decided to conduct the internal assessment of the sixth semester students in certain courses in the online mode on an experimental basis. In the online mode of Internal Assessment, on the day of examination, the students were required to answer a set of 10 Multiple Choice Questions in each course and submit the same within a stipulated time frame. It was found that the additional advantage of conducting examination in this manner was that the results of the examinees were immediately generated online and later could be accessed by the college authorities for future reference and uploading to the University portal. Our institution being inspired by the level of success in the maiden attempt, henceforth decided to carry out online internal assessments for the fifth and sixth semester students in Honours courses (except Santali subject) in each academic session. Therefore, online internal assessments were conducted for the fifth and sixth semester students in Honours courses (except Santali subject) in the academic session 2019-20. Obstacles faced/Problems encountered:Initially there were some minor technical glitches which were soon overcome by speedy redressal. The digital divide made some of the students a bit shaky in the beginning, but in course of time they too acquired adequate confidence. Evidence of Success: After introducing this practice online internal assessment it became very popular among the students. The teachers also found the system to be a better one so far as managing the answer scripts and award lists are concerned. Further conducting the Internal Assessment in the online mode has emerged as a standard practice. Best Practice II Academic Session 2019-20 Title of the Practice: Celebration of Children's Day by the learners of the Department of History in the adopted villages of the NSS units of the college with the association of NSS volunteers. Objectives of the Practice: Make the students aware of the stark social reality. To instill a strong sense of social responsibility among the students. Motivate the students to contribute to the society meaningfully through philanthropic activities. To forge team spirit among the learners To inculcate leadership qualities. Inspire other co-learners and set a precedence for them The Context:On a regular visit to the Anganwadi Centres (C-45 C-46) of the two adopted villages of the National Service Scheme (NSS) Units, namely Banskatpara and Joratolpara in 2011, some NSS volunteers were shocked by the plight of the underprivileged children there. It seemed obvious that the poor children did not have proper access to books and other accessories needed for proper education. These volunteers hailing from the Department of History of the college felt it to be their moral obligation to do something worthwhile for those disadvantaged children in their humble capacity. They approached their departmental teachers for guidance. After much deliberation, the students along with their teachers decided to celebrate Children's Day for the children of the adopted villages of the NSS units of the college and on this occasion present each child with an education kit. The Practice: Starting in 2011, the "Children's Day" celebrated by the Department of History for almost ten years has always been an exclusive initiative of the students of the department. Each academic year, the students of the Department of History plan and organize the event on 14th November in consultation with the Principal, the departmental teachers and the NSS Programme Officers. In case 14th November coincides with a holiday, the students make it a point to celebrate the event on some other date in the month of November. For this occasion, the learners in their modest capacity contribute financially to purchase and later present education kits to the children of the adopted villages of the NSS units. Sometimes teachers of the department too additionally help in the contribution. The students first elicit information on the total number of children from the Anganwadi Centres of Banskatpara and Joratolpara and then proceed to purchase the educational kits accordingly. The composition of the educational kit to be presented to each child varies depending upon the aggregate fund collected. So far, it consisted of bags, books or writing accessories or a combination of these. The Children's Day for the academic session 2019-20 was celebrated with children of the Banskatpara and Joratolpara on 14th November 2019. Obstacles faced/Problems encountered: Paucity of funds deter students to include more items in the educational kit. Evidence of Success: The team spirit of the students of the department is an inspiration. It has ensured that the seniors of the department pass on the baton to the juniors to celebrate this event of Children's day each year with regularity for the underprivileged children of the two adopted villages of the National Service Scheme (NSS) Units, namely Banskatpara and Joratolpara in the conventional fashion. The evidence of success is also reflected in the number of children (Table 1) who have benefited from this event.

7.3 – Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words

We strongly believe in the age old dictum that "Knowledge is Power". We visualize our students as active agents who work towards eradication of gender inequality in the society as they become empowered by acquisition of higher education. For this purpose apart from the traditional methods of teaching and learning different types of innovative methods in teaching and learning has been adopted by the college like ICT enabled presentations, use of Smart Board, screening films and documentaries, invited lectures, publication of the Departmental Wall Magazines, interdisciplinary seminars and workshops, theme based exhibition by different departments of the college, educational tours and so on. During the pandemic situation due to COVID-19, the college made every effort to conduct online classes and provide different links for use of Library resources by the students from the safety of their home. To enlighten the girl students from socially and economically backward sections of the society and ensure that financial disability is not a constraint for the needy learner to pursue college education, the college strives to provide different types of financial assistance, scholarships and endowments to the students provided by the government and different non- governmental organizations. The college during the lockdown helped several students with financially weak background through partial or complete waiver of college fees. The students are encouraged to participate in co-curricular, extra-curricular and extension activities like seminars and workshops, group discussions, cultural programme, Sports, NSS, NCC, participate in educational tours etc. The college motivates the learners of the college to help the children of a nearby orphanage, Ananda Ashram, periodically. These activities play a significant role in developing the personality, a sense of gratitude and indebtedness of the students to the institution and respect for the society. The college offers skill development courses in collaboration with NSHM Udaan Skills Pvt. Ltd as a part of the Prime Minister's National Skill Development Programme. Additionally, in 2019-20, value added courses in Soft-toy and Face-mask making have been conducted by our teacher, Dr Rituparna Ghosh, HOD, Geography Department. These skill development courses are open to the learners of the institution as well as women participants from neighbouring areas and institutions. These courses create off-campus employment opportunities for the beneficiaries. A Memorandum of Understanding has been signed with Smart Alliance Joint Services Pvt. Ltd on 3rd December 2019, to enhance skills of the students basically aimed at making them financially independent irrespective of their education or social standing. The students can also avail the different opportunities in career counselling arranged by the college authorities from time to time. The students and their guardians get benefited from informal counselling with the Principal and the teachers on specific problems of early marriage and other social and sensitive issues. During the lockdown, a seminar titled "Mental Health of Students and Parents, specially for Girls Students and Mothers During the Pandemic Situation" was organized by IQAC on 4th September 2020 to address mental health issues stemming from the fear and concerns about COVID-19 among students and their parents.
